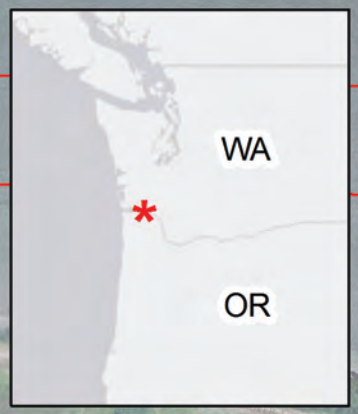
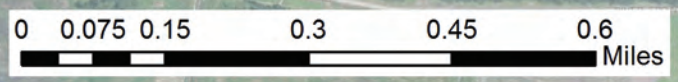
Brown Island Upland Disposal Site - River Mile 46





Size: 72 acres
Elevation: 5 to 10 feet above Mean Sea Level
Owner: Washington State Department of Natural Resources
Description: Brown Island is located at the upstream end of Puget Island and is an established dredged material placement site. There is no tree cover on the site. Brown Island is bordered by White Island. A low swale separates the two and is inundated seasonally. No other improvements are located on the island.