Mount Solo Upland Disposal Site - River Mile 62

Size: Approximately 50 acres
Elevation: 10 feet above Mean Sea Level
Owner: Port of Longview (previously owned by the Radakovich family)
Description: The property is bordered to the north by a meandering surface water drainage, to the east by a Cowlitz County Diking District drainage, to the south by a dike and the Columbia River, and to the west by an undeveloped field. The topography is nearly level across the entire site. The dike gently slopes to the north and south, and separates the majority of the site from the Columbia River. The center of the site has a wide, shallow depression. The northern half of the site slopes down slightly to the north-northwest into the meandering surface water drainage ditch. On the west side of the site, the topography is relatively flat and is uniform to the adjacent parcel.
