MEMORANDUM FOR CENWP-OP-D

SUBJECT: The Dalles/John Day/Willow Creek Project Environmental Policy

The Dalles/John Day/Willow Creek Project is committed to the protection and conservation of the environment for present and future generations. All employees are responsible for incorporating this commitment into their planning and work as we carry out the missions of hydropower, navigation, flood control, fish passage and recreation. Protection of the environment is an integral part of our role in accomplishing our missions. All employees and support contractors must perform their duties in a manner which prevents pollution, protects the environment, and conserves natural resources.

We are committed to:

- Environmental protection and continual environmental process improvement.
- Evaluation of the effectiveness of our environmental management system to ensure that established objectives and targets are met.
- Comply with applicable environmental laws and regulations and accept accountability for non-compliance.
- Early introduction of environmental protection and pollution prevention into the planning stages of new facilities and programs.
- Publication, implementation, and maintenance of our environmental policy and its communication to all employees and interested parties.
